Call for Internet based work
Deadline: 1 April 2006
****
On 1 January 2006
the global networking [R][R][F]2005--->XP modified its name and URL into [R][R][F]2006--->XP
http://rrf2006.newmediafest.org.

Since its start in March 2004, the RRF project has become one of the most successfull Internet based projects of its kind and was presented until now nearly 50 times in virtual and physical space
details see also http://netex.nmartproject.net/index.php?blog=8&cat=54 Currently, the project is part of the exhibition "Global Groove" at
The Art Gallery of Knoxville/USA - www.theartgalleryofknoxville.com

For the new season 2006, [R][R][F]2006--->XP is inviting artists working with New Media to submit their latest Internet based projects or works dealing with the theme "memory" in a narrow or wider sense, including aspects of identity, violence, human rights, controll (surveillance), globalisation and much more, see also the "Memory Channels" on
http://rrf2006.newmediafest.org

The RRF project is planned to be continued after 2007 and beyond..
As a most unique source of collective memory RRF project will remain online for permanent.

A single artist or an artist collective can submit up to 3 projects/works.
The projects have to be submitted as URL, thus must have an Internet address of there own, but there is an option (on request) to accept also cloned projects (including all necessary files) for being hosted on RRF server. The use of following plug-ins is accepted:
Flash, Shockwave, Quicktime, Real Player, Cortona (3D) , (other plug-ins on request)

Please use this entry form for submitting:

1.name of artist(s), email address(es), URL(s)
(in case of an artists collective please credit all participants properly)
2. short biography/CV (not more than 300 words each)
3. 3 work/project max. -->
 a) title
 b) year of production
 c) used technology
 d) URL for review and inclusion
4. work description (not more than 500 words)
5. 2 screenshots(.jpeg, max. 800x600 px) for each submitted work
.
Please send the complete submission to rrf2006@newmediafest.org
subject: [R][R][F]2006--->XP submission

For the option of submitting a cloned project,
please contact rrf2006@newmediafest.org for details
subject: cloned project submission

****
This calls is also issued on NetEX - networked experience
http://netex.nmartproject.net/index.php?blog=8&cat=54
the free information service provided by [NewMediaArtProjectNetwork]:||cologne
www.nmartproject.net
info(at)nmartproject.net