are happy to present the WOW event series
@ The Quarantine Film Festival Varna 2018 - 12-14 July 2018

Statement

The 19th manifestation of The W:OW Project - taking place in the framework of The Quarantine Film Festival in Varna/Bulgaria in July 2018 - is featuring 12 individual programs - packed into 4 screening units of 90 minutes each - presenting 76 videos by 76 artists from 30 countries - selected by 7 curators from Finland, Turkey, Venezuela, Peru, Greece & Germany. Each one of the 12 programs is based on a different curatorial concept dealing with different aspects – generating a broad bandwidth of artistic and curatorial visions reflecting and standing for the incredible diversity of Being. The art contents is focussing on the local and individual, as well as the global and the entire Whole of everything. The screening program as a whole would like to transport fundamental artistic & philosophical ideas to an open-minded audience.

He gives lectures in photography and multimedia essay in the Communication Faculty of Yasar University, Turkey. Tahir Un is currently active in photography, moving image and curatorial works. He lives in Izmir.

VAFT – Video Art Festival Turku (Finland)

Video Art Festival Turku (VAFT) is an annual video art festival taking place in Turku, Finland. The first two festivals were held in the old warehouses of the Old Great Square in May 2016 and 2017 and the VAFT 2018 will take place all over the city of Turku this May. The festival itself is curated by an artist juror, but team VAFT curates video art content to all kinds of events. One of VAFT's missions is to bring video art to new and unexpected places and contexts, outside of the white cubes of museums and galleries.

Simo Saarikoski (Finland)

(b.1980 in Finland) is multidisciplinary artist who works extensively in different fields of visual art. In his work he explores time and it's phenomena, as well as human impact on the environment and how to find mercy for yourself in the era of social media. Saarikoski uses video, sound and watercolor painting separately or in the form of installations. He has performed with the group – Messianic Research Centre for Visual Ethics (MRCVE, funded in 2002) around Europe and US. The group's modus operandi is to openly incorporate both scientific and artistic methods in its works. With the Finland's state art price winner, art collective – T.E.H.D.A.S. he has realized several projects and exhibitions (e.g. "Live and Dead Art" in Pori Art Museum, 2014) and worked as a performance art event organizer and curator in Pori, Finland.

Diana Rangel & Maria Bilbao Herrera (Venezuela)

Founded in 2015 by Maria Bilbao-Herrera and Diana Rangel, two Venezuelan artists/educators, mmodoCSS is an experimental and generative platform for the arts, based in Caracas Venezuela. aimed to generate links among different art practices in Venezuela and bring these approaches to a collective framework by offering open calls locally and internationally, both for teaching, studying, exhibit and criticism & broadening a plural debate around our approaches to art practices.

Vera Tyuleneva (Peru)

Curator and graphic designer. Born in Russia, she has lived in Peru since 1999. She has a degree in art history (St. Petersburg State University, Russia), a master's degree in anthropology (European University in St. Petersburg, Russia), a doctorate in history (Pontificia Universidad Católica del Perú). As a part of THE W:OW PROJECT and dedicated to the audio-visual medium, THE W:OW ART FILM AND VIDEO FESTIVAL is dealing thematically with the Present and Future of planet Earth under the influence of the human species. WE ARE ONE WORLD is not just another artistic topic, it is the complex reality and at the same time an Utopia that matters.

The „world“ is not just planet Earth as an all encompassing whole, but also the „world“ in terms of the environment or place the individual is living in: family, circle of friends, society, city, region, country or continent, or other sortlike unities marking the individual and collective identity, their relation between each other, and the responsibility of the individual for each other and the Whole.

THE W:OW PROJECT, respectively THE W:OW ART FILM & VIDEO FESTIVAL initiated by artvideoKOELN & The New Museum, of Networked Art – directed by Wilfried Agricola de Cologne - is representing such a sample world on a small scale, in which artists, curators and worldwide networking partners and, not to forget, the audience are acting in mutual respect, demonstrating the diversity of artistic and curatorial concepts. The festival project is consisting of three (3) basic program components, the general festival selection, the contributions by invited curators from all over the world and curated selections from associated art film collections like artvideoKOELN Collections, The Refugee Film Collection or Collective Trauma Film Collections, they form the fundament for a wide range of presentation formats like screening, projection and installation (exhibition).

According to its concept, the W:OW Project - incorporating different levels on a local and global scale – will manifest at many venues all over the world,
